Two Prisoners Escape Lehman

A Grayling man was one of two prisoners who escaped from Camp Lehman on Sunday, December 9.

Tommy Lozon, 22, of Grayling, and Steven Vestula, 20, of Lansing, were discovered missing by guards at the minimum security facility's 10 p.m. bed check. Camp Lehman personnel found a prison blanket thrown over the concertina wire portion of a fence in the visiting area and presume that was how the two men escaped.

Lozon was serving a sentence of two to ten years each on two counts of breaking and entering. He was eligible for parole on October, 1991. Camp Lehman officials believe Lozon may be hiding out somewhere in Crawford County.

Vestula was serving three to 10 years as a habitual criminal (second) for receiving and concealing stolen property. He was not eligible for parole until June 15, 1993. Camp officials believe Vestula has probably left the area.

Both men are still at large.

A Camp Lehman spokesman said they were surprised when they learned Lozon had escaped because they had recently filed an application for his release into a half-way program which is considered less than minimum security. He said Lozon appeared excited about his pending release, which could have come in a month or so. His escape has nullified this possibility. If found guilty of prison escape, Lozon could receive additional time to his sentence.

Lozon was arrested in March, 1990, for breaking into coin operated machines in Spike's Keg O' Nails.

Arrows Strike Grayling Residence

A Grayling family escaped injury last Wednesday night, December 5, when a hunting arrow went through a double-pane glass window and lodged in the toy box of their son's playroom.

The incident occurred at about 11:30 p.m. when an unknown person stopped his vehicle on Millikin Road and shot three arrows at a deer in the front yard of the Everett Woosley home. Two of the arrows hit the wood frame house, the third entered the house through the playroom window.

The Woosley's 2 1/2-year-old son was up at the time of the shooting, but he was not in the playroom. No one was injured.

A neighbor reported that she heard a vehicle in front of the residence at about 11:30 p.m. and, after it sat there for a while, it left in the direction of North Down River Road. The Woosleys are offering a $500 reward to the person who provides information leading to the conviction of the person or persons responsible for the incident. They said their son usually stands in that window and watches the deer in the front yard.

Persons with information about this incident can contact the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. and ask for deputy Todd Golinick, at 348-6341.

$100 Reported Taken In Robbery

Two masked men entered the E-Z Mart, located on the I-75 Business Loop, and after threatening the attendant, left with about $100 in cash.

The strong arm robbery took place at about 5 a.m. on Thursday, December 6. Police believe the two men left on foot.

Richard Lippard of Grayling was the attendant on duty when the robbery occurred.

Grayling City Police are pursuing several possibilities in the investigation, but no warrants have been issued at this time.

Grayling Chief of Police Peter Stephan described a "strong arm robbery" as less than armed robbery because a weapon is not used, but one where threats and intimidation are present.

FAREWELL—Friends and relatives of the two women and six men of the 745th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Detachment met at 6:30 a.m. Saturday morning, December 8, to say good-bye. One member of the group was SPC Karen Wallace (center) who, when not serving with the Michigan National Guard as an administrative clerk, is a 5th grade teacher at the Grayling Middle School.

Chamber Polls Businesses On I-75 Loop Improvement

By Irene Pettyjohn

Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) engineers fielded questions for over an hour last Thursday night, December 6, at the Grayling Holiday Inn, as Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce members expressed concerns about MDOT's proposed changes to the I-75 Business Loop.

At the end of the meeting chamber director Deb Allen gave chamber members an opportunity to vote whether they favored the proposed construction plan or wanted the project stopped until a new plan could be re-designed in a few years. A design that would insure the safe flow of traffic to both the businesses in the loop and to the entrance of southbound I-75.

Allen said the chamber would base its position on the construction project on the results of this vote. Results of Thursday's vote will be announced at the December 18 chamber board meeting.

MDOT's proposed construction plan involves removing the seven existing two-way median cross-overs and replacing them with six one-way cross-overs equipped with 250 foot left turn stacking lanes. These cross-overs will not be located directly across from business driveways.

Wayne Gunderman, MDOT district traffic engineer, said the new plan will alleviate the unacceptable practice of people "shooting" their vehicles out business driveways into congested cross-overs and blocking traffic. When construction is completed, all vehicles leaving business driveways will have to turn right onto the business loop and proceed to the desired cross-over. He said most of the accidents occurring in the south business loop are clustering at cross-over sites.

Gunderman said there are approximately 22,000 vehicles using the I-75 Business Loop everyday and that MDOT feels it is imperative that the system be improved as soon as possible.

Robert Willis, project engineer, said the proposed project has already been bid out and the contract awarded to a firm from Tawas City. The $761,000 construction project will begin as soon as weather permits in the spring, probably about May, and will be finished by Labor Day. The project will be limited to median cross-overs, paving, and replacement of existing driveways and curbs. It does not include any sidewalks or bike paths.

Some suggestions by chamber members that will be considered by MDOT engineers is the installation of a flashing light at the I-75 Grayling exit to warn motorists to slow down to the 40 mile per hour business loop speed limit, placement of a sign warning motorists in the loop that there is only one more cross-over before they will enter I-75, and the addition of one more "regular" cross-over north of the southern most cross-over which will be constructed as a truck cross-over.

Suggestions rejected by engineers was any major change in the proposed design, changing the construction schedule to begin earlier in the spring so that the project could be completed by August, and the installation of a stop light at the Glen's Market driveway.

The engineers said because the project funds are limited and the contract has already been signed, major changes in the plan are not possible. Gunderman said he did not feel a traffic light at Glen's was needed and could be a problem in the long run, but said if the businesses could demonstrate a need, MDOT would consider it.

Willis said beginning construction earlier was impossible. "I've been here on the fourth of May when there was an inch and a half of snow on the ground," said Willis. "We need drying conditions before we can start grading a sub-base and lay paving," he explained. "As it is, it's going to be a God-awful mess out there. Even if we started earlier, we would probably be finished at the same time," he continued. "You'll just be torn up longer."

Willis said no special incentives were given to the contractor to complete the work on or before construction deadlines as there were last year when the Grayling exit bridge work was done.

Willis said one lane of traffic in the loop would be kept open throughout construction to enable access to loop businesses and I-75. He said driveways and curbs will also be replaced in half sections. Wherever possible, businesses were encouraged to share driveways to enable work to proceed even faster.

Grayling Sends Off Another Guard Unit

By Irene Pettyjohn

Camp Grayling's 745th Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) Detachment left Grayling early Saturday morning, December 8, enroute to Fort McCoy, Wisconsin.

The detachment of highly trained technicians and administrative clerks consisted of two women and six men. Two members of the 745th EOD Detachment did not leave with this group. One member is a college student, completing her ROTC training, and a second member is a high school senior.

Two members of the detachment are from Crawford County. They are SFC Michael Garner, the detachment's senior ranking enlisted member, and SPC Karen Wallace, an administrative clerk. In civilian life, SPC Wallace is a fifth grade teacher at the Grayling Middle School.

Several of SPC Wallace's students responded to their early morning alarm clocks and were present at the Camp Grayling Armory for the 6:30 a.m. farewell ceremony Saturday.

Mayor Robert Golinick and president of the Camp Grayling Minuteman Foundation Jack Alef presented gifts to the departing troops and wished them a safe and successful mission. The detachment was also presented with a routed sign that said "Camp Grayling East" from their fellow guardsmen at Camp Grayling.

The 745th EOD was to report to Fort McCoy on Sunday, December 9, ready for additional training before they were to be deployed in support of Operation Desert Shield.

MAJ Jerold Foehl, Camp Grayling Public Affairs Officer, said there are three other Michigan National Guard detachments at Camp Grayling that could be activated. These include the 1438th Engineer Detachment, alerted earlier this fall but not activated, the 1071st Maintenance Company, and the Installation Support Unit, Camp Grayling's headquarters company, responsible for the administration of the camp. At the present time, none of these are on alert status.

MAJ Foehl said each of the deployed detachments performed a valuable function at Camp Grayling and will be missed, especially this summer during annual training. The 207th Evacuation Hospital Detachment was responsible for physicals and updating inoculations. The 1439th and 1440th fire fighting detachments operated an active fire department throughout the fire season. The 745th EOD Detachment performed hazard reduction and disposal of unserviceable ammunition.

"All of these functions will have to be done," said MAJ Foehl. "We can't wait until our troops return."

About ten percent of Michigan's National Guard force has been mobilized.

MAJ Foehl said the remaining 90 percent will need to conduct their summer annual training as usual, but if other states have also deployed about ten percent of their forces, it

Mannequin Kidnapped, Wooden Indian Gone

By Almee Voight and Nicole Wilcox

Has anyone seen David Shoppenagon, the life-size wooden Indian that lived in the Chief Shoppenagon Motor Hotel lobby?

The mannequin was last seen on Monday, November 26, between 7 and 10 p.m. sitting at the keyboard of the hotel's grand piano. He was wearing blue jeans and a flannel shirt.

Hotel manager Mary Harland said she suspects that the Indian left the hotel held between two people, making the Indian appear to be another human being. She said the hotel was busy that night with meetings and people coming and going from the restaurant and bar.

"I would like to see David walk back the same way he left," she said. "He is missed tremendously." Harland said if the person or persons who took David return him she will "look the other way" and not file charges.

Harland said she is quite sure the Indian, valued at about $450, suffered some damage when he was taken because ceramic chips were found on the carpet beneath the piano bench. She speculated the chips came from the Indian's hands, although his head is also ceramic. The remainder of his body is made of wood 2 x 4s.

Hotel employees discovered the mannequin missing at 10 p.m. when they began the evening cleaning.

The Indian was a popular attraction for people of all ages who visited the hotel. Harland said many of the older ladies posed for pictures with David as they sat on the piano bench beside him. Some commented that he was the perfect man, "because he didn't talk back." David had been at the hotel for about 3 1/2 years.

Grayling City Police Chief Peter Stephan said his dept. did not have any suspects and that the investigation was continuing. He said the theft was probably a prank, similar to someone taking a stop sign to hang in their bedroom.

"This was a pretty costly prank," he said. "Larceny from a building exposes the thieves to felonious criminal charges."

Chief Stephan said if his dept. comes up with a suspect and a warrant is issued, the case will have to go to court, even if it is for a dismissal of the charges.

Hospital's Lights Of Love Tree Ceremony Set For December 14

The young voices of the Grayling Elementary School Choir will add a special touch to the Lights of Love Tree Lighting Ceremony on Friday evening, December 14, at Mercy Hospital in Grayling. Mercy Hospital Auxiliary invites area residents and visitors to attend the ceremony for the Lights of Love Tree at 6 p.m. in front of the hospital. A reception will follow in the hospital cafeteria.

Members of the Auxiliary are looking forward to illuminating the large blue spruce tree that was planted this year in tribute to Charles Oppy, M.D. Dr. Oppy is a retired physician from Roscommon who practiced at Mercy Hospital for many years. The beautiful blue spruce tree was dedicated to Dr. Oppy earlier this year in recognition of his dedication to the medical profession.

The children's voices will add a special touch for the gathering of Auxiliaries, hospital staff, and family and friends of those honored on the Lights of Love Tree. Dr. Oppy will host the ceremony along with Dennis Renander, President and Chief Executive Officer of Mercy Health Services North.

"Response from individuals, businesses, and organizations to this project has been excellent," said Joyce Vogelsberg, Chairperson of the Lights of Love project. "We anticipate lighting at least 400 lights thanks to donations we have now, with the excitement growing as the day of the lighting approaches."

Those wishing to honor or memorialize a loved one may continue to do so as the Christmas season progresses. Donations will still be accepted and lights added to the tree following the tree lighting ceremony. Donations of $5 will light a light on the tree. For more information or to obtain a giving envelope call Donna Plam, Volunteer and Community Services Coordinator, at 348-5461, ext. 193.

If the community decided to halt construction, MDOT said they would back off.

"We'd have to settle with the contractor because he has already been awarded the contract," said one of the engineers, "and we would move on to some other project. There are always more projects than there is money."

If the proposed project is scrapped, engineers said it will probably take between three and five years before MDOT will get back to the Grayling project. They said the North Down River Road I-75 entrance/exit project is "five, ten, or fifteen years away from construction." It is being considered by MDOT, but there is no funding for the project.

could mean an across-the-board reduction of soldiers training at Camp Grayling this summer.

"Further activations will reduce this number even more," he said.

According to MAJ Foehl, Camp Grayling will be involved in annual training exercises regardless of the deployment of its troops.

"Camp Grayling differs from an active army training post where individuals come in for training," he explained. "Here units come in and conduct the training for their own troops."

Chimney Fire Contained Quickly

The chimney at Mrs. Richard Hamlin's home at 1810 Old Dam Road will have to be replaced after it was severely damaged by a chimney fire on Friday, December 7. The inside of the residence received only minor smoke damage.

Fire fighters from the Grayling City and Township Fire Dept. responded to the fire alarm at 8:27 a.m. and were able to quickly bring the fire under control, averting further damage.

Fire chief Russ Strohpaal said he was sure the chimney would have to be replaced. No one was hurt and firemen were on the scene for about one hour.

Sheriff deputies were summoned last week to the site of what could have been a serious snowmobile accident involving two Grayling teenagers. (See newsbrief for details.) To avoid similar accidents, deputies caution all snowmobilers to 1) know the area they are traveling and 2) stay off private property.

Teenager Thrown From Snowmobile

A Crawford County teenager was injured on Thursday, December 6, when he was thrown from his snowmobile after it struck a guard rail.

Christopher James Lehti, 17, was taken to Mercy Hospital by ambulance after he was thrown up and over his snowmobile, landing approximately 15 feet from the impact site. The accident occurred at 9:21 p.m. at the Camp Grayling parade field. Lehti, who was wearing a helmet, suffered a concussion and a bruised clavicle. He was admitted to Mercy Hospital overnight for observation.

His passenger, John Noteware, 15, also from Crawford County, was not injured.

Although it's nearly December with Christmas lights all around Grayling, a breath of fresh air cut through the winter air at the Avalanche last week to brighten up the season.

Two bright, young Grayling Middle School students, Aimee Voight and Nicole Wilcox spent three days at the Avalanche learning how a weekly newspaper operates. Though only in the 8th grade, the pair wrote stories, edited community news, added headlines, designed ads, and even helped us put mailing labels on the newspapers Wednesday morning.

The enthusiasm they brought into the office was appreciated by everyone here. Two examples of the fine work performed by the students are the "Missing Wooden Indian" story on the front page and this week's Feature page, which was designed by them.

We hope the students learned enough during the three days to make this school project worthwhile for them. Their teachers and parents can surely be proud of the academic skills they displayed and how quickly they overcame different challenges. They certainly helped renew or spark all of our interests in our work.

Benefits for both the students and businesses are available through this type of school venture. Perhaps more local businesses could join in hosting students for a couple days during the school year or in providing summer jobs at a position the students can learn skills and pass on their enthusiasm to the rest of the staff.

Thanks Aimee and Nicole, for brightening our office with your enthusiasm, sharp minds, and giggles. And, yes, we found the thank-you message you snuck on one of the computers.

Aimee Voight and Nicole Wilcox wrote a front page story among other accomplishments while visiting the Avalanche for three days last week.

Avalanche Size Changing In 1991

Like many people dieting to keep new year resolutions, the Crawford County Avalanche will be losing an inch around the waistline starting with the new year.

Because of shortages in the newsprint industry, the Avalanche will be switching to 28-inch paper beginning with the Jan. 2 issue. At the same time the Avalanche switches to the slightly smaller paper, it will change to the nationally recognized SAV 6-column page format from our old style 8-column page.

Most readers will notice the easier reading length of news stories using the 6-column format.

Reader Says Morse's Contract Was Fulfilled

Dear Editor:
I read Martha Bancroft's letter in the November 29th issue of the Avalanche. It fills me with disgust to realize that she and others like her have no sensitivity or respect for another person's sense of morality.

I wonder, first of all, what business it is of hers whether or not this fine young man decides to go off to the Persian Gulf to kill other humans. Perhaps she would like to go overseas to take aim and fire. I would surely respect her decision to do so and would hope she could live with her conscience in the aftermath of war. Her own opinion, on the other hand, condemns her to the deprivation of the benefits of this grand country should she decide not to fight.

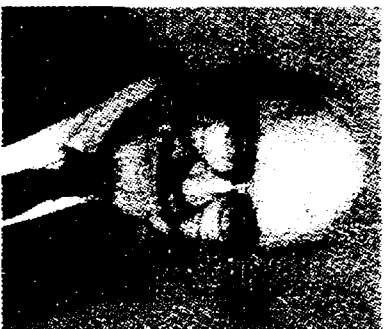

I also disagree with her gray train mentality. Mr. Morse gave seven precious and irreplaceable years of his life to this country in return for the so-called "ride." His contract with the United States government was fulfilled. It was "We the People" who violated the contract with Mr. Morse.

Almanack

By Richard Millman

Understanding is tough to achieve

EVERYBODY'S GOT his/her own problems. It's tough for anyone who has not shared those problems to understand them.

You don't really know a man — so the old Indian proverb goes — until you've walked a mile in his moccasins. But how does one achieve understanding of what is different? Are there no universal truths or standards? Must someone experience something to understand it?

In Florida a few weeks ago, a record shop owner was found guilty of breaking a law when he sold an album by a rap group called Two Live Crew. The album was obscene, and the merchant, by selling it, broke the law, the jury decided. But the record shop owner protested. Whites on the jury just didn't understand black culture. He argued that to blacks, there was no obscenity.

Double standard? At least the convicted record seller thought so.

THEN THERE'S THE Hon. Coleman Young, mayor of Detroit.

Mr. Young lost his temper on network television recently, spouting several swear words during the course of an interview on a show which generally savaged Mr. Young's city as routing, crime-filled, poorly run and in almost every other way imaginable.

Mr. Young also was personally attacked during the interview — if you consider questioning one's honesty and integrity as a personal attack. The line of questioning obviously provoked the mayoral profanities.

Mr. Young, to his credit, subsequently apologized to the public in general. He still was chastised by an editorial in The Michigan Chronicle, a respected black-owned weekly newspaper, for setting a bad example for kids who may view the mayor as a role model.

How did the mayor of Detroit react? The guy who owns the newspaper lives in Chicago, Mr. Young noted, and "he doesn't know what the hell is going on in Detroit."

SOCIOLOGISTS MIGHT BE sensing a trend in these two instances.

Let's Talk About It By Joe Murphy

Another deer season is behind us and in the old days that meant we would not see many strangers until the first of trout season. Now it seems the winners are almost as busy as the summers. Skiing, snow mobbing, etc., brings a lot of folks north every week end. That is fine for the business people, but I miss those tranquil winters we used to enjoy years ago. In Frederic except on old U.S. 27 if we saw a strange car in town we wondered what was going on. It was time to enjoy the friends and neighbors of our little community. Taffy pulls, sleigh rides, dances, skating, and strolling parties made those winters seem a pleasant time. Even getting snowed in for a few days had its good times as we had time for the stories Mom and Dad told of the old days. In the old days a storm didn't cause problems like they do today. We had wood stoves, kerosene lamps and hand pumps so we were not at the mercy of electricity the way we are today.

In the old days if Dad and my brothers killed a deer or two it was a very welcome addition to the family larder. My Dad like most farmers hated to slaughter a beef for family use as they could be sold for cash money. Pigs were raised to provide meat for the family table and venison was always a welcome addition. Mom used venison to make her great mince meat and canned venison was always a treat.

For a lot of folks in the old days venison made the difference between hunger and food to eat. One could get tired of potatoes and browned flour gravy if there was not a little meat on the table. Some folks tried to live on snowshoe rabbits but you could die of starvation eating them, as they have no fat which our bodies require. I have never heard of anyone here starving on them but the accounts I have read of the Yukon gold rush it was quite common.

Well, Christmas will soon be here with all its good food and gift giving. Christmas has lost a lot for me now that I don't have any little children to share it with. I have said many times, a Christmas tree never reaches its full beauty until you see it reflected in a child's eyes. Many homes and businesses have beautiful displays of Christmas lights. If you are stuck in trying to think of a gift why not consider one of my books of poetry. I have two published, one is Memories Of Frederic. My Homeown, with all proceeds going to the Frederic library building fund. It seems like Only Yesterday is the second with all proceeds going to our museum here in Grayling. Either can be ordered from me at 603 Maple or by phone, 348-8308. I will be happy to autograph them if you wish. Make your gift dollars give twice by giving some of my books for gifts.

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

Sgt. George Morse
Manhattan, Kansas

Dear George,

It's been awhile since I've seen you—not since your daughter Michelle was a tiny baby. But lately I've been reading a lot about you in the daily and weekly newspapers, and I thought I'd let you know I'm thinking about you.

You and your decision not to accept orders to go to the Mideast are certainly making the headlines regularly.

I guess I'm not surprised that you decided not to participate in Operation Desert Shield. Although I've hardly seen you since you graduated from GHS, the boy I remember never hesitated to buck the crowd, the system or the establishment when he disagreed or disapproved, nor was he too keen on hurting other people.

I know some folks are saying you're afraid to be sent to the desert, afraid to fight. That's too bad. I'd like to tell them that even as a high school student, you were no coward.

In truth, I remember you as straightforward, honest and yes—when necessary—brave. I expect that you haven't changed much in that respect.

In high school, it takes some degree of courage for a boy to act and sing and dance in school plays, compete on the forensics team, play trumpet in the school band. You did all of that, as well as play on the varsity football team.

I remember scheduling rehearsals of "Heaven Can Wait" around the team's practices, so that you could play football as well as have the leading role in the play.

Not everyone approved of you back in high school. There were some classmates who taunted you about your choices.

Sometimes verbal taunts were not enough for the critics. Once you were slugged in the face by another student.

But I remember you didn't fight back. You put up your hands and defended yourself against the blows. But you didn't hit the guy back, because that would have been behaving as rotten as he was.

I suspect that you're having to endure a lot of taunts now, as you refuse to support the effort in the Persian Gulf. Well, I know you can tough it out today, as a 25-year-old, because you could tough it out years ago as a teenager.

Yet, I know it's difficult living in a society that has created mythical, oversimplified and unrealistic roles for males (and females).

The man acts; the woman watches. The man is strong; the woman is weak. The man controls himself; the woman emotes. The man fights; the woman cries.

The man fights.

But you're a man and now you're saying that you don't believe in war and you don't want to fight. By your statements and your actions, you're generating a lot of nasty reactions.

I think that you're making people uneasy because you're forcing them to re-examine basic issues that make them feel uncomfortable:

What should a man be willing to fight for?

What should a man be willing to kill for?

What does a man owe his employer?

What does a man owe his country?

What is cowardice?

What is bravery?

Opinions

I want to talk a little about that final issue — bravery.

It seems that many people are simply falling back on the type of bravery learned from John Wayne movies.

Without question, it takes courage to leave one's family and home behind, to be shipped to the deserts of the Mideast, to wake up each morning wondering if you're going to be asked to fight today, wondering if you will be asked to kill another human being.

There is no disputing the bravery of our nation's soldiers—men and women. But there are other forms of courage besides the traditional physical and mental bravery exemplified by good soldiers.

There is also moral courage. The kind of courage you are showing as you buck an entire Army, a government, a war. The courage needed to perform an unpopular act because your principles demand it, even though others demean it.

Those who say you lack courage do not see this form that it can take. Or else they refuse—for their own reasons—to acknowledge that your solitary act of defiance took amazing bravery.

Actually, it probably would have been easier for you to have gone to the Persian Gulf and secured a non-combat role than to resist the war preparations. This act of conscience—particularly when you stand alone—can't be easy.

Your critics doubt your credibility. They attack your timing, your sincerity, your motives.

I don't. I believe you. But I know you and most of them do not.

Yet even if they don't understand you or your act, they must be overlooking what the United States is and what we as a people stand for.

Our nation is deliberately designed to provide freedom for a wide range of opinions. And it is a perversion of what America stands for to attempt to crush one's freedom to dissent.

Well, George, I know these times aren't easy for you. So I wish you strength and the courage of your convictions in the weeks ahead.

I'll try to write again soon.

Meanwhile let us pray for the safety of the soldiers stationed in the Mideast, for wise decisions by our nation's leaders, and for an end to this life-threatening crisis.

Peace,

Nancy Lemmen

To: All Landfill Users

Due to the increased cost at the landfill, under Act 641 and the amendments to it, the landfill has no choice but to raise the rates $1.00 per yard beginning January 1, 1991.

The last amended act to 641 was a Perpetual Care Fund Trust that calls for .25¢ per yard for every yard that comes into the landfill to be placed in a trust fund, in case there is a cleanup at the landfill in the future. The money in the trust fund can be used for that purpose. If this act would have been in effect twenty years ago we would not have the problem financially on the old landfill that we have today. The money stays in the trust fund for 30 years, controlled by the State of Michigan.

The increase in cost of fuel for equipment, and the increase in cost for the vinyl to build the cells to dispose of waste has increased one-third. So to these increases we feel that the need is necessary.

Local Singers To Present Messiah

On Sunday, December 16, Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church will sponsor two performances of Handel's MESSIAH. The concerts, which will be held at the church located at 400 Michigan Avenue in downtown Grayling, will begin at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend either performance. There will be no admission charge. The MESSIAH choir will feature about fifty voices. The choir is made up of members of the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church Choir joined by vocalists from throughout the community.

The group has been rehearsing one night a week since October.

MESSIAH, written in 1742 by George Frederic Handel in just 24 days, is performed all over the world at Christmas time. During the time that MESSIAH was written, Handel never left his house and he ate and slept very little. MESSIAH was first performed in Dublin in 1742 and later that year in London. When King George II heard the "Hallelujah Chorus" he was so moved that he sprang up to his feet and remained standing as long as the chorus sang. Still today, when this work is performed, audiences all over the world stand and remain standing while the great chorus is sung.

Bits Of Talk Fay Bovee

Surprises were in store for Loren J. Goodale, Sr., this Thanksgiving. It seems that he had a wish for an "Olde Time Family Thanksgiving" and his wife Caroline, let word out to the Goodale family.

On Thanksgiving Day 1990, the family gathered at the K of C Hall, on Norway St., to surprise Loren Sr. with a "Thanksgiving Reunion Dinner." The families in attendance consisted of:

Brother Howard Goodale and family from Kalkaska and Traverse City; son Loren

Goodale, Jr., and family from Grayling; daughter Caroline McMullen and family from Pennsylvania and Illinois; daughter Barbara Shaw and family from North Carolina and Florida; daughter Beverly LaVoisne and family from S. Michigan cities of Brooklyn, Belleville, Plymouth, Canton, and Northville.

This gathering totaled 50 children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, which provided quite a chore for the cook. Grandma Goodale proudly stepped forward to tie the apron strings on and provided the home cooked meal. All of the traditional trimmings were provided with Loren Jr. offering the Grace and thanks to our Lord.

A good meal and good times were shared by all.

Tracy and Kay Fagan of Traverse City became new parents on October 23, 1990, when their new daughter, Paige Jacqueline Fagan arrived. Grandparents are Lila Sellers, Buno Golinick, and Jerry and Bev Fagan, all of Grayling. Great grandmother is Mrs. Ruth Golinick of Grayling.

The Hamlin family celebrated an early Thanksgiving dinner on Wednesday night instead of the traditional Thursday when Scott Hamlin had to leave with his Guard unit. His mother, Ann Hamlin, hosted the family dinner with guests, Scott and wife, Shelley and son, Aaron, Richard and Margie Smith of Mt. Pleasant, Berta Sawyer, Dean and Lori Smith, Paul and Beth and Jamie Hamlin, and George and Nancy Ginnerick.

Berta Sawyer and Ann Hamlin spent Thanksgiving Day with Richard and Margie Smith in Mt. Pleasant.

Skip and Sherry Fowler spent two weeks in South Dakota where they went to visit their daughter and family, Sgt. Rodney and Gail Ann Ney at Ellsworth A F Base. They celebrated Gail Ann's birthday while there.

On Sunday Charlie Fick reported that he talked to Henrietta Bear in Gainesville, Florida, and that she is doing just great. She'd like her Grayling friends to know that she is getting along all right.

Congratulations to Roy and Joyce Vogelsberg on their 45th wedding anniversary, December 8, 1990!

Cox, Sosnowski Wed

At a candlelight service October 13th in the Rochester Church of Christ, Rochester Hills, Michigan, Kellie Louise Cox became the bride of Mark Christopher Sosnowski. The Reverend Gerald Tallman performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox of Troy and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Jerald J. Sosnowski of Troy, Michigan.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture of loveliness gowned in a beaded chantilly lace fitted bodice and sleeves, and a sheath skirt adorned with iridescent sequins. A silk taffeta peplum held a cathedral length train.

A beaded forehead band of pearl petals with cascading pearl sprays secured her bouffant of tulle fingertip veil. The bride carried a croissant of white roses and cascade lilies with sprays of pearls.

A duplication of the bride's flowers embellished the altar on which was placed a unity candle. The church aisle was adorned with ribbons and white roses on the pews.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Cheryl Judd and Kellie chose her cousin Nancy Baloh to be her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Michelle Ogden of Gaylord, Patricia Dooley of New York, Sheryl Sosnowski, the groom's sister, of Troy, Heather Verhelle, cousin of the bride, Bloomfield Hills. Heather Laube of Shelby Twp. served as junior bridesmaid. They were gowned in black sequined bodices with puffed ball sleeves and long full taffeta skirts. The flower girl, Claire Leonard, cousin of the groom, was dressed in white organza and satin and carried a basket of rose petals which she strewed down the aisle. Serving the groom as best man was John Webb of Royal Oak. Groomsmen were Jerald Sosnowski, brother of the groom, Todd Cox, brother of the bride, Matt Smolinski, John Mann, and Fred Andris.

The bride's mother was attired in a jacket of black and gold sequins over a long black silk skirt, while the groom's mother wore a black skirt topped with a black sweater with large white sequin polka dots.

A cocktail reception and sit down dinner was held immediately following the ceremony at the Ritz Carlton in Dearborn.

Out of town guests included Doreen Longdyke, aunt of the bride, Sacramento, CA.; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ross, cousins of the bride, Grayling; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pence, Tammy and James Pence of Lansing and Grayling; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Laube, Alpena; Sheryl Robinson, cousin of the bride, Wisconsin; Melinda Mackey, Ann Arbor; Todd Mackey, Oklahoma; and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ducatte, North Carolina.

The young couple honeymooned in the Hawaiian Islands and will be residing in Shelby Twp., MI.

The Harold Longdykes, long time summer residents of Lovells, are the grandparents of the bride. The bride's parents, Harold and Joanne Cox have a cottage on Big Creek near Lovells.

While she accepts the fact that you never promised her a rose garden, isn't it time you stopped trying to give her one?

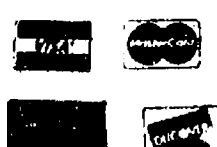

This year, he deserves the gift that's as special as she is, the Diamond Anniversary Band from ArtCarved. Created specially for this occasion, it lets her know you took the time to find the perfect gift. Whether it's your 1st, 5th, 10th, or any anniversary in between, this band will let her know you care all over again. Give her the Diamond Anniversary Band from ArtCarved.

Icehouse Adds New Line Of Healthy Gourmet Foods

Foods that taste good, are good for you, and can solve the annual Christmas dilemma of what to give "Aunt Gladys Who Already Has Everything?" Can it be true?

Indeed it is! Jill Wyman, owner of the Icehouse is excited about her new line of gourmet foods and believes they will become popular with her patrons, not only as foods they will enjoy eating themselves, but also as delicious gifts they will want to give to friends at Christmas-time and throughout the year.

The Icehouse's gourmet pantry includes No Sugar Added! Spoon Fruit and Fruit Butters from American Spoon Foods of Petoskey. These fruit spreads bring back to the pallet summer's fruit flavors native to Michigan in a spoonable form without adding sugar. They are perfect on toast, muffins, pancakes, ice cream, crackers and have only seven calories per teaspoon. American Spoon Foods also markets several no oil salad dressings that can be used right from the bottle or blended with the oil of choice in amounts to suit individual tastes and diet restrictions. When used from the bottle, Salad Dazzlers adds only 10 calories per tablespoon to a salad. The dressings are also delicious when used on rice or noodles.

Other American Spoon Foods available at the Icehouse include Cranberry and Plum catsups, an old colonial recipe prepared long before tomato catsup was used, and Michigan Dried Red Tart Cherries that can be used in recipes in place of raisins, sprinkled over hot and cold breakfast cereals, stirred into fruit or chicken salads, or eaten right from the bag.

The Icehouse also has salt-free and cholesterol-free

Neva-Betta Specialty Crackers that taste so good they are worthy of serving to party guests.

Herbs for Healthful Living is a small Pennsylvania company that grows and packages all types of dried herbs for dips, cranberry grog, and seasonings for soups, salads and popcorn.

The newest item in the Icehouse pantry is Cowboy Caviar Vegetable Paté. This salsa-type sauce is a vegetable blend of fresh eggplant, tomatoes, peppers, garlic and spices that contains no cholesterol, no fat and very few calories. It is great used directly from the jar as a dip on crackers or added to sour cream or yogurt as an enhancer.

"It is all so good," said Jill. "I like it when things good for you taste good, too."

American Spoon Foods also sells birch bark baskets, made in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Icehouse staffer Butch Feldhauser is busy putting together uniquely beautiful gift baskets of gourmet foods in these baskets, just in time for Christmas gift giving.

"These baskets are great for people who don't have time to shop, or have someone on their Christmas list they don't know what to buy," said Jill. "We can put together a gift arrangement with food items everyone would enjoy receiving."

Icehouse customers have a variety of gift options. They can call and let Butch put something together for them in a birch bark basket or in another container such as a woven basket, crockery bowl or bowl of copperware. They can come in and pick out the items for the gift package and either have Butch put it together or take it home and put it together themselves. They can bring a container to the Icehouse and Butch will transform the empty vessel into a beautiful and tasty gift arrangement. Through the selection of the "perfect" container, the gift package arrangement can range from simple country basket to elegant crystal.

When the arrangement is finished, they can even have the Icehouse mail the package via UPS for them.

The Icehouse gourmet food products are just the beginning of specialty items Jill intends to carry. She will be attending a food show in the near future and hopes to bring back many new tasting experiences for her customers.

"I don't want to go into foods, just for foods," she explained. "They will have to be both healthful and taste good, too."

Pd. Adv.

About Your Social Security

Social Security beneficiaries will receive a 5.4 percent cost-of-living increase in their benefit checks in January. The check amount is rounded down to the next even dollar amount. For those who have the Medicare Part B premium withheld from their check, the basic premium deduction will increase from $28.60 to $29.90 on the January 3 check also.

People who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks will also receive a cost-of-living increase in their January checks. Because January 1 is a holiday, the SSI checks will be paid early, on December 31.

Individuals who work while receiving Social Security benefits must limit their earnings in order to receive all of their benefits. The earnings limits increase for 1991, from $9,360 to $9,720 for persons age 65 to 69, and from $6,840 to 7,080 for persons under 65 throughout the year. There is no earnings limit for people age 70 and up. Those 65 to 69 have $1 in benefits withheld for every $3 of earnings above $9,720; those under 65 have $1 withheld for every $2 earned above $7,080. A different, monthly rule can be applied to earnings in the first year one receives benefits, so that pre-retirement earnings do not affect benefits after retirement.

Disabled beneficiaries are not subject to these earnings limits. They must report all work and earnings.

For more information, call Social Security toll-free, at 1-800-234-5772 (234-555A), from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., weekdays. For the fastest service, try calling when lines are the least busy — early in the morning, or late in the week or month.

The Traverse City office, located at 1111 E. Front St., is open Monday - Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., weekdays, except national holidays.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. There is no phone service at this location. Callers may use the toll-free service.

The Christmas holiday is great fun to frolic and play in the winter sun. Lots of great gifts to give and receive only for you and me who believe. Many bright bows, new colorful clothes, waiting for me on Christmas Eve. The most fun of all is to decorate the tree. Now I must sleep until I see, the first sign of light, telling me Santa has come during the night.

Keith Sowulewski
The Werewolf
6th grade

One night two kids, Paul and Scott were walking through a dark woods. The only light was the bright glare of the full moon filtering through the thick forest.

Suddenly they heard a rustling in the bushes and felt that they weren't alone. Paul spotted two red eyes and said, "I-i-is that you Scott?" Scott tapped him on the shoulder and said, "What?" Paul jumped 12 feet in the air. "Don't do that Scott!" yelled Paul. "Look at that." A cat with red eyes ran out of the bushes. "It's just a cat," said Scott. Then they heard a low growl as a huge, hideous, ferocious beast emerged from the bushes and chased them. Scott ran up a tree but Paul was cornered. The beast attacked Paul. He screamed loudly but it didn't help. The giant beast sank his teeth into Paul's shoulder. For Paul it was painful but for the beast it was mealtime. Before the beast had time to proceed with his feast, there was a loud BANG! The Beast dropped to the ground.

Paul woke up in the hospital with a bandage on his shoulder and remembered it all. From that day on, Paul read every book he could find on werewolves, but he found out too late that werewolves need to be shot with a silver bullet to die. Is he still out there looking for his next victim?

Lonely and Homeless

It was 3:30, before the crack of dawn. The street lights were lit. Rob awoke and said "still half asleep, 'Who stole my newspaper?'" You see for the past sixteen years Rob Buckley had been living on the streets.

Rob's mother was thirteen when she gave birth to him. Knowing she could not support him she put him up for adoption. The family that adopted Rob was a mean family. They beat and abused him daily. Finally, at the age of five, Rob ran away from their home.

Rob had no alternative but the streets. He met a poor old man with whom he stuck with for five years. The old man took care of Rob like he was his own son. They both lived in a cardboard box which lay above the sewer to give off heat. When Rob was ten the old man passed away. He had no choice but to find somewhere else to stay.

After a while Rob found a place. He agreed to help in a grocery store for a place to live. Things were going fine until one day the store manager caught Rob stealing food off the shelves. He immediately fired him. Rob was back on the streets again.

Rob was alone again. No friends, home, or food. He was starving. It got so out of hand that Rob was digging in garbage cans to find food. He finally found an old cardboard box to live in for the winter.

It was a long, hard winter for Rob. The food was scarce. He would maybe eat once a day if he was lucky. He was all alone with no one to talk to. He often thought of what his real mother and father would be like. He imagined his mother as being beautiful and pretty. He thought of his father as being tall, handsome, and muscular. He had always hoped to be reunited with them one day.

Winter was over and Rob had managed to survive the cold season. He weighed only about 70 pounds now. In the spring Rob met another poor old man. He was just like he dreamed his father would have been. He was kind and generous, sacrificing everything for Rob. He stayed with this man for nine years.

Nine Years Later

Rob was twenty this spring. He was still living with the same old man. The man was using him as a slave. He made him go out and collect firewood, work, and turn his paycheck over to him. He had horrible green teeth and his breath was the smell of liquor. He kept a close eye on Rob. When the man tried to kill him, Rob decided to run away.

After a lot of thought he decided there was no point to his life anymore. He put a gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger. He died at the age of twenty-one, not ever knowing his true mother and father.

Vikings Explode For 91-67 Opening Win

Behind great team defense and the scoring of senior Shane Fraser and sophomore Eric LaForest, the Grayling High School boys varsity basketball team opened its 1990-91 season with a 91-67 rout of the Boyne City Ramblers.

Fraser led the Viking scoring effort with 33 points and LaForest had 19.

Senior Jay Mertes contributed eight; senior Matt Branch, seven; senior Ron Doe, six; seniors Scott Nicholas and Kirk Annis, five apiece; and senior Adam Mead and junior Mark Andrus, four each.

Fraser also had eight assists, while Annis chalked up seven steals.

The Vikings shot an impressive 70 percent from the free throw line, making 24 for 38. Fraser alone made 13 for 15, an outstanding 91 percent.

"We shot really well when the pressure was on," said Coach Tom Mills.

LaForest led in rebounding with seven and was closely followed by Annis with six.

"Because of the style of game we played, nobody was in double figures in rebounds," explained Mills. "We played a lot of pressure defense--man-to-man and full-court press."

"Also, we didn't rebound offensively against Boyne City. That's one area we need to improve on," Mills added.

Nevertheless, the Vikings played outstanding defense, an up-tempo game that both the players and fans enjoyed.

"We put them under a lot of pressure, doubled-teamed them. We had 21 steals—that's a lot, not counting how many turnovers they had," admitted Mills.

"Our press bothered them," he continued. "They couldn't pick out who they wanted to pass to. They just had to get the ball down the floor."

The Vikings, with their good bench strength, had the opportunity to rotate players in and out in order to play hard and apply continuous defensive pressure.

"We had eight or nine people who played great defense," said Mills. "They played as a team."

He added, "Everyone who played did some nice things. I guess that's why we won as easily as we did. I was truly excited by the aggressiveness and hustle the kids showed."

Boyne City was last year's regional champion and most of their squad returned for the 1990-91 season. So Mills is justifiably pleased with the Vikings' ability to press.

"We shot the ball well, too. I saw this as a good opener to get an idea of where we're at."

The Ramblers are in the Lake Michigan Division of the Great Northern League, while the Vikings compete in the Lake Huron Division.

Said Mills, "Boyne is a good ball club. I suspect that they will win their division. Our division competition will probably come from Rogers City and Lincoln-Alcona."

In spite of the opening victory, Coach Mills is hesitant to make any grandiose predictions. "We were excited about the win, but an opening game victory doesn't make a season and we'll have to prove ourselves the rest of the season."

On Friday, December 14, the GHS squad travels to Onaway to open league play.

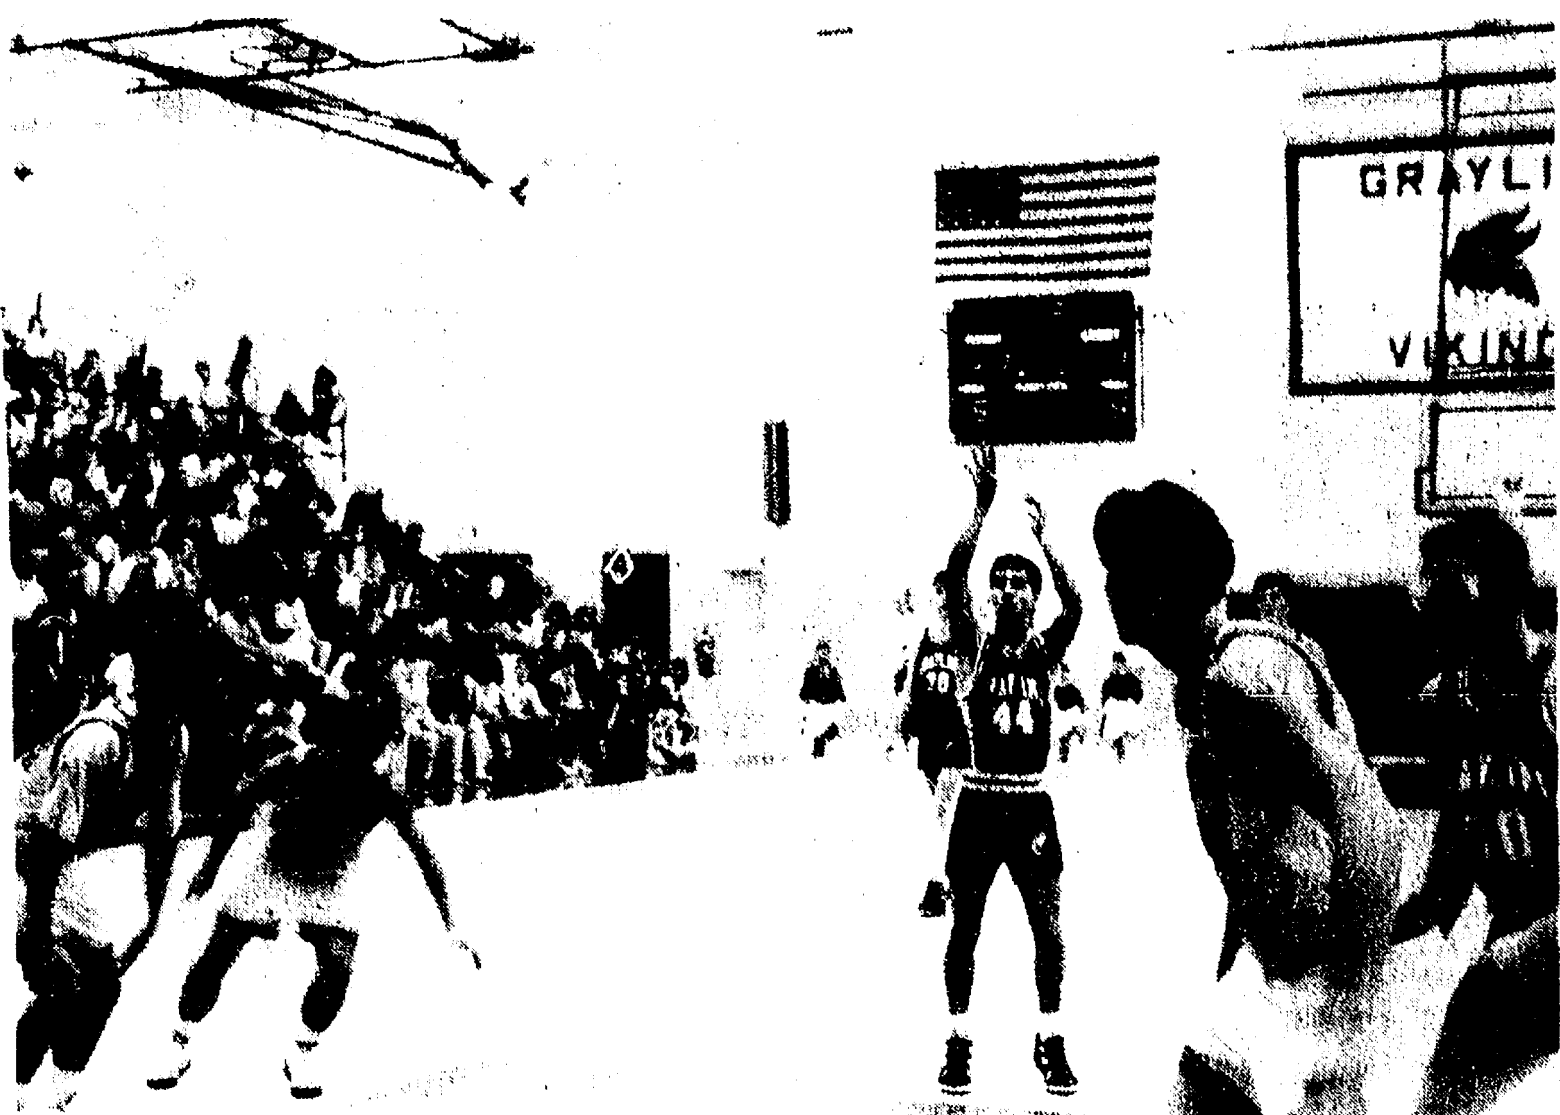

"We've never played them, we know only a little about them and we'll be in an unfamiliar gym," said Mills.

On Tuesday, December 18, the Vikings play at Gladwin, another unfamiliar school.

The varsity team plays immediately after the JV games are finished.

VIKINGS ROLL--Shane Fraser hits a free throw in the first quarter as he led Grayling scorers in the opening win.

JV Team Loses To Boyne City

The Grayling High School boys junior varsity basketball team led Boyne City, 42-37, at the end of the third period of their game last Friday.

But they dropped their lead in the fourth quarter, to lose to the Ramblers, 64-53, in GHS's season opener.

The Vikings, an all-sophomore veteran squad, trailed in the first period, 18-13, and also in the second, 32-23.

Coach Warren (Butch) Hayes, in his 17th season coaching basketball and his fourth coaching the GHS JV team, says his team practices a lot on the man-to-man and zone defenses because "we want to stay in the game until the third and fourth quarters, then let our conditioning and defensive pressure take over."

That is exactly what the Vikings did in the third period, when they outscored the Ramblers by an impressive 19-5. But Boyne City turned around in the fourth quarter to outscore Grayling, 27-11.

"I don't understand what happened in the fourth period," admitted Coach Hayes.

"We as a team started out kind of slow. We made a good comeback in the third to take the lead. We hurried too much in the fourth quarter on shot selection. We played really good defense for three quarters, then let up."

Steve Branch was high scorer for Grayling with 11 points. Andy Lochner followed closely with ten. Jason Neeley and Mike Kimo each scored nine. Matt Cragg made eight. Nick Hebekeuser, Mark Kraus and Gary Schroyer each contributed two.

Cragg also made seven rebounds for the Vikings.

Hayes said that Grayling outscored Boyne City in field goals, making 19 two-point shots and two three-pointers.

However, perhaps first game jitters contributed to the fact that the Vikes made only nine out of 24 at the free throw line as opposed to Boyne's 26 for 41.

Nevertheless, Hayes is optimistic for his squad's 1990-91 season. "Although we lost the first game, we have had excellent practices, they show great intensity and potential and we'll have a good year."

The Vikings travel to Onaway next Friday, December 14, and to Gladwin on Tuesday, December 18. Tip-off time for both games is 6:15 p.m.

REBOUND BATTLE--Kirk Annis, left, gets the upper hand on this rebound.

Matmen Tackle Class A, B Schools

The Grayling High School wrestling team placed an impressive 4th out of 18 entries in their first shot at the Haslett Tournament on December 8.

The tournament annually draws downstate Class A and B schools, said GHS Wrestling Coach Don Ferguson. Grayling earned 140 1/2 team points for their 4th place finish. New Lothrop scored 189 for 1st place. Brighton, at 2nd, scored 150. Third place Fowlerville had 145. Williamston tied with Grayling at 4th place.

Several GHS wrestlers contributed to the team win: Senior Andy Moore (125 pounds) came in 2nd, winning three matches and losing only one.

Moore defeated Brighton's Mitch Zoldowskie, a 1989-90 Class A state qualifier, in the semi-finals, 3-2. He lost to New Lothrop's Randy Weisenberger, last year's Class C state champion, in the finals.

Senior Todd Thorsen (160 pounds) also placed 2nd. After winning three matches, Thorsen lost to Williamston's Randy Burger, 5-4, in the finals.

Senior Dennis Springer (171 pounds) placed 2nd for GHS. He won his first three matches before falling to Brighton's Kelly Shaw, 8-5, in the finals.

Senior Frank Wildfong (119 pounds) finished in 3rd place with a 3-1 record. Wildfong pinned Pinconning's Tim Shelagowski in the finals.

Placing 4th for the Vikings were: sophomore Sam Mack (135 pounds), senior Joe LaForest (145 pounds) and senior Doug Doty (152 pounds), all with 2-2 records. Sophomore Tom Schweizer (189 pounds) placed 5th with a 3-1 record. Schweizer pinned his opponent in the final round.

Freshmen Ken Kent (103 pounds) and Dave Wildfong (140 pounds) also scored points for GHS.

There was all-around good team scoring, said Coach Ferguson.

He added that Grayling was in 2nd place after the first round, but fell to 3rd place after the third round and ultimately to 4th place, even though they took eight wrestlers into the finals and consolation finals.

"We had a chance to win it," he said.

Ferguson continued, "With five returning seniors, the team has the potential to do a good job this year. But we have to work more on conditioning, on running. We've had only eight days of practice so far, so that cuts down on our conditioning. We're bruised and beat-up and sore."

Nevertheless, said Ferguson, "It was a real good tournament."

New Lothrop has been Class C state champions six times in the last ten years. Williamston, a Class B school, has been to the state finals often; and Haslett and East Lansing traditionally have been strong.

"We had a good time and some excellent competition."

The Vikings wrestle home against Rogers City on Thursday, December 13, at 6:15 p.m.

"It's going to be a tough one," admitted Coach Ferguson. "We beat them in the regional finals by five points last year and both teams have the same wrestlers back. It depends on who's healthy."

GHS also competes in the Roscommon Invitational on Saturday, December 15, at 10:00 a.m.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

A Long Christmas Night

The hours on the old clock on the mantle
Were slowly slipping by that night
Mary paced the floor full of worry
Would Bill make it home alright?

He was away working in a lumber camp
And the winter storm was bad
The children were trying to stay awake
For they were eager to see their dad

He had promised to come home tonight
To spend Christmas with them all
He had been away in the lumber woods
Since the first snows of the fall

Mary got the children to bed
By promising to wake them when he came
She heard the children pray he would come soon
As they knelt by their beds softly lit by the candle's flame

Those little children would have no Christmas
For Bill was to bring home their gifts and toys
If their stockings were not filled in the morning
She'd have some sad little girls and boys

Then just as the clock struck midnight
She heard the tapping at the door
Mary's heart was filled with joy
As she ran across the floor

Bill stood there with his arms full of gifts
That they quickly got out of sight
As the children came rushing to greet their dad
On that joyous Christmas night

23 Years Ago

For the first three quarters the Grayling Vikings were in the ball game all the way with the Charlevoix Rayders here last Friday evening.

The Rayders took a three point lead at the end of the first period, 14-11. In the second quarter the Vikings battled them on even terms, 15-15. In the third period the Rayders gained another three points, 18-15. In the final quarter the Vikings could muster only six points to the Rayders 13, as they dropped their third game by the score of 60-47.

Had the Vikings been able to attain an upset, the entire league would of been tied up as the other three conference games went to the underdogs.

Park Interpreter, Hartwick Pines State Park

On Monday, just as our most recent storm was getting cranked up, I was waiting in the picnic area parking lot for a school group from Birmingham for a guided tour. As I watched the swirling snow, it became apparent there wasn't any wildlife activity at all in an area where the red squirrels, chickadees, nuthatches, and woodpeckers are generally very obvious. Upon arrival back at the office, I took a phone call, and one of the questions was whether raccoons hibernated or not.

In weather like we recently experienced, such critters as raccoons, squirrels, and skunks will hole up to conserve energy. So long as they have sufficient fat reserves they seem to fare pretty well.

Skunks may stay holed up longer, but a day or two of moderate weather will send them afield. Even male bears are thought not to sleep the winter through as their tracks or other evidence has been found even in mid-winter.

Chipmunks and woodchucks are true hibernators so we probably won't see them until the frost is out of the ground in the spring. The birds from large to small will stay in the most sheltered location they can find to wait the storm out. They are high energy burners so a lengthy storm can spell disaster for the weaker members of any species. Once the storm is over there will be a flurry of wildlife activity, so fill your feeder and watch your driving for your safety and theirs.

CHOW TIME—These eight-week-old collie mix puppies have no trouble eating and drinking from a dish and are ready for placement. These potential pets and all the animals at the Crawford County Animal Shelter can be seen Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 12:30

The Bible Speaks

Humanism and Global Control

The ultimate goal of humanism is global control of all human beings under one government. In Humanist Manifesto II, we read under World Community the opening words:

"Twelfth: We deplore the division of humankind on nationalistic ground. We have reached a turning point in human history where the best option is to transcend the limits of national sovereignty and to move toward the building of a world community of a system of world law and a world order based upon transnational federal government. This would appreciate cultural pluralism and diversity. It would not exclude pride in national origins and accomplishments nor the handling of regional problems on a regional basis. Human progress, however, can no longer be achieved by focusing on one section of the world, Western or Eastern, developed or underdeveloped. For the first time in human history, no part of humankind can be isolated from any other. Each person's future is in some way linked to all. We thus reaffirm a commitment to the building of world community, at the same time recognizing that this commits us to some hard choices."

In paragraph thirteen the humanists declare the end of war. "War is obsolete." They call for planetary reduction of military expenditures. In paragraph fourteen the humanists declare ecology a moral issue which must be controlled internationally. (An international DNR). While dealing also with technology and communication/transportation, another key factor was paragraph fifteen dealing with economic growth and development:

"Fifteen: The problems of economic growth and development can no longer be resolved by one nation alone; they are worldwide in scope. It is the moral obligation of the developed nations to provide — through an international authority that safeguards human rights — massive technical, agricultural, medical, and economic assistance, including birth control techniques, to the developing portions of the globe. World poverty must cease. Hence extreme disproportions in wealth, income, and economic growth should be reduced on a world wide basis."

Humanists have signed a manifest calling for one international government resulting in redistribution of the world wealth. Many if not most of those signing the manifesto have gone on record supporting marxism in some form to bring about this utopia.

It is God who has made the nations. (Acts 17:26). It is God who scattered the nations into different languages, races, and cultures. (Genesis 11:1-9). All humanist attempts at a one world utopia will eventually end in chaos and judgment. (The book of Revelation).

Three of a kind

At this point these three kittens are not very different from one another. Similar markings, all cuddly, identically impelled with a desire to explore the world.

Later they will begin to show individuality and respond to the personalities of those humans who soon become their world.

The human process of growing up has parallels. Only gradually does individuality become evident. The developing child will also be strongly influenced by those closest who, likewise, become his or her world.

Our churches and synagogues in their ministry to families build upon this principle. While strengthening family relationships, they help children to grow spiritually at their own pace. Their emphasis on truth and commitment makes the example of grownups more effective, more inspiring.

Your children deserve and your family needs God's ministry to YOU.

Cruise Ship Safety
Ordinary passengers have no practical way to find out just how safe their cruiseships are before they climb aboard. The Mature Traveler newsletter reports. Public reports resulting from U.S. Coast Guard safety inspections are hard to obtain and not very informative.

Keeping Healthy

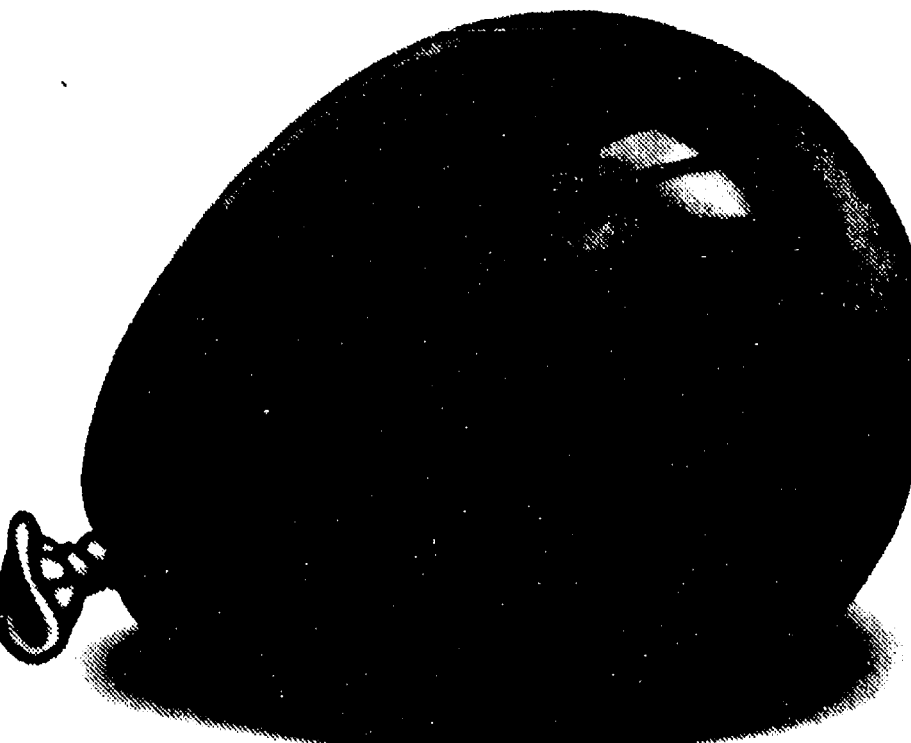

Heart Disease
A recent survey of 400 cardiologists indicates that more than 40 percent of these physicians take an aspirin every other day to reduce their risk of heart attack. The survey was formulated to determine what steps the physicians take to protect themselves from heart disease—in other words, do they practice in their own lives the advice they give to their patients?
In addition to taking aspirin, the doctors rated highly the importance of not smoking (97.5 percent), knowing their cholesterol level (96 percent), modifying their diet (72 percent), and exercising (63.4 percent).
Most of the physicians surveyed believed that these actions are helping to reduce their risk of heart disease. It should be noted that, like much of the population, it isn't always easy for physicians to follow their own advice.

Fat Is Top Diet Concern
Fat content in foods has emerged as the biggest nutrition concern for consumers, topping cholesterol and salt. Jumping 17 percentage points over last year, 46 percent said fat is their top nutrition worry.

CHRISTMAS COINS—Every December Mac's Drug Store matches the amount of money their patrons throw into the "wishing well" in the store's floor and donate it to the Salvation Army. This year there was $150 in the well. Larry McNamara, owner, is shown presenting the $300 to Salvation Army representative Carole Hallett. The money will be used to purchase Christmas presents and dinners for six or eight Crawford County families.
